About Us

Goals

- Transition individuals and families to affordable permanent housing
- Increase public awareness and support of homeless issues
- Maximize vital education and job readiness support for homeless citizens
- Provide access to job training and employment placement services
- Reduce the number of homeless people in shelters
- Strengthen and develop partnerships with other organizations

Mission

The Coalition's mission is to help transition homeless and at-risk individuals and families to self-sufficiency through housing programs and supportive services.

Vision

Rebuilding lives through the elimination of homelessness

Definition of Terms

Individuals are people who are not part of a family during their episode of homelessness. They are homeless as single adults, unaccompanied youth, or in multiple-adult or multiple-child households.

Persons in Families are people who are homeless as part of households that have at least one adult and one child.

Transitional Housing Programs provides homeless people temporary housing with supportive social services for up to 24 months in order to help them to become more self-sufficient and move into permanent housing.

Geoffrey P. Lewis

Message from Chairperson

Welcome to the Coalition's 2017 Annual Report.

Thank you to the many organizations, individual donors, foundations and staff, for your role in helping the Coalition for the Homeless make a difference in the lives of the persons who experienced homelessness in the District of Columbia who are working towards making improvements in their lives.

Thank you to our volunteer board of directors who have provided guidance and wisdom throughout Coalition's growth. Our board members serve as advisers, decision makers, problem solvers and represent leaders and business owners in a variety of fields. The combined fruits of their labor have resulted in a unique and effective organization.

The Coalition is pleased to welcome four new members to its Board of Directors; Cecilia Calvo, Nancy Gephart, Andrew Grimaldi, Delese Harvey, and Advisory Board Member Megan McConville. Their skills and experience will be an asset to our board and we look forward to working with them and hearing their ideas. Learn more about their backgrounds on the Coalition's website.

Michael L. Ferrell

Message from Executive Director

Thank you for choosing to support the Coalition for the Homeless. When homelessness occurs, individuals and families need time to get re-acclimated into society. The average time men, women and children spend in the Coalition's transitional housing programs is 6 months. The services and support we provide individuals and families each day continue to evolve. In a year of bad world news, good things happened; during 2017, the Coalition helped 335 persons find permanent housing.

On the front cover of this annual report, the word HOME is emphasized.

Our top goal for everyone coming into our program, is to ensure individuals and families move into permanent affordable housing. Everyone should have a safe, stable place to live. A place to call home. Housing is a fundamental human need that lays the foundation for success in every aspect of our lives. When we have a home, we have a safe space to lay our head at night, store our personal belongings, a kitchen where we can cook our meals, and a launch pad from which we can seek jobs, attend school, and connect with our friends and family. Having a place to call home defines our place in the world, our sense of belonging, and our relatedness to others. We want every individual and family to believe a HOME is attainable.

The Coalition Team is proud of clients who have turned hardship into success. I hope you enjoy reading about some of our success stories, our impact and accomplishments during 2017. Again, thank you for your continued support.

Helping Our Children

Reading Is Fundamental (RIF), in partnership with the Coalition for the Homeless

Reading Is Fundamental (RIF), in partnership with the Coalition for the Homeless (CFH), was awarded a $27,000 grant from the Junior League of Washington (JLW) to improve the literacy levels for the youth served at the Coalition's family program. The literacy program will serve 50 children annually under the JLW three- year grant. For nearly 50 years, RIF has been working with teachers, educators, and parents to improve children's literacy and subsequently overall educational outcomes.

The proposed project specifically addresses children's literacy development. Fundamental to students' ability to enter school ready to learn and be successful in school is literacy- their ability to read, write and speak. Each child will be given the opportunity to choose and own 10 books to build their own home libraries.

Through this partnership with Reading is Fundamental and the Junior League of Washington, the Coalition hopes to improve the literacy skills of the children we serve in order to better prepare them for college. RIF will include STEAM (Science, Technology, Engineering, Art and Math) themed activities as a part of the project to help to directly tie literacy development to college and career readiness.

Success Stories

During 2017, the Coalition for the Homeless helped 335 persons find permanent housing. Below are some of our success stories shared from our various transitional housing programs.

Path to Independence and Self-Sufficiency

Vernon Suggs moved to permanent housing May 19, 2017.

His Story: Due to substance abuse problems, a troubled marriage, mental and physical stress, Vernon Suggs could not keep a job and became homeless. He ended up at Blair Transitional Rehabilitation Program on October 8, 2016. To help Mr. Suggs get back on his feet, he received supportive services, counseling, job referral and placement assistance through the Coalition's in-house Employment Program. As a result, Mr. Suggs has been employed since April 2017. As an onsite Service Technician at Van Ness Luxury Apartments, he pays reduced rent, makes $20 per hour and receives full benefits. In addition, he will receive free training and certification as an HVAC (Heating, Ventilation Air Conditioning) Technician. Mr. Suggs' confidence and determination has been restored. He wants to succeed and become more productive. He said he feels motivated to get up in the morning to join the working class and provide a service to others. Great progress Mr. Suggs; keep up the good work!

Home Sweet Home

Michael Peoples moved to permanent housing November 3, 2017.

His story: In January 2017, Michael Peoples was accepted in the Emery Work Bed Program (EWBP). The EWBP is designed to meet the needs of homeless men who are employed, or in job training. Prior to entering the EWBP, Mr. Peoples had a job as a maintenance man at Wingate Apartments in Washington, DC. The problem was, he could not find affordable housing so he had to stay with friends. He wanted to find a place of his own to call HOME.

During the time Michael spent in the program he was focused. He received case management, and employment and housing placement assistance. He started working a second job at Express News Papers, and saved enough money to secure an apartment. He was offered permanent affordable housing though SOME (So Others Might Eat).

Mr. Peoples loves the fact that he has his own place. He believes that the Emery Work Bed Program can work, but you must give yourself a chance and stay positive and focused.

A man on a mission

Gregory Duvall moved to permanent housing November 2017. He feels more empowered, more encouraged and at peace with who he is.

His Story: Gregory Duvall became homeless as a result of substance abuse. He lost several jobs and apartments, but he always seemed to get another job and find someplace to live. This last time when he lost his apartment and job he knew things had to change - physically and emotionally, he was in terrible shape. On November 10, 2016, he entered the Coalition's Park Road Transitional Housing Program. According to Mr. Duvall, he has received support and encouragement. He has learned to accept help and take advice. He is employed as a waiter/team leader, saving money, and focused on his recovery. He said just having people acknowledge that he is doing well gives him the courage to keep going and having someone to talk to and receive feedback, helped him greatly.

The Coalition for the Homeless Job Fair Targets Homeless individuals, low-income, and Veterans!

The Coalition for the Homeless hosted its 9th annual job fair on Wednesday, September 27, 2017 at the ARC Boys and Girls Club in Washington, D.C. We would like to extend a big thank you to everyone for coming out to the Job Fair and making it such a successful event! A special thank you to the Coalition's employment staff for their hard work and dedication.

The Job Fair has been renamed the Linda Fields Job Training and Educational Opportunity Fair in honor of Linda's commitment and leadership over the last 9 years. Linda Fields passed away on July 19, 2017. She was Director of Employment and Training for 26 years. Linda along with Doris Washington, former Chairperson of the Board of Directors, initiated the Coalition's first job fair in 2009, which resulted in increased participation each year. Tiffany Hughes, Program Director at 50th Street Family Program, said it best - the job fair was Linda's baby.

The job fair is intended to serve homeless individuals, low-income and veterans, but is open to all persons seeking employment and other resources. The job fair connects homeless individuals, low-income, and veterans served by the Coalition, and other service providers to various employment and apprenticeship opportunities. The Coalition works with good organizations that help people find resources and employers who want to help people get back to work! Having a job changes lives. The Job Fair is an integral part of the Coalition's mission to help people living in the District of Columbia become self-sufficient and independent.

We are proud and honored to have worked with Linda Fields and we are moving forward in her name. We will continue her legacy and great work to help people who are unemployed and need job training, and other resources to help them become productive members of the community.

5th Annual Stepping out for the Homeless Fundraiser

The Coalition for the Homeless Hosted a Fun and Inspiring Event to Help the Homeless

The DMV (D.C., Maryland and Virginia) was moving and grooving and working up a sweat. Community members put on their dancing shoes to show support for a fun and inspiring event, the Coalition for the Homeless' 5th Annual Stepping out for the Homeless fundraiser on Friday, October 27, 2017. With shows like Dancing with the Stars and So You Think You Can Dance in full swing, dancing is once again becoming America's favorite pastimes. This is an upbeat fundraising event that is growing in popularity.

All proceeds benefited individuals and families in the Coalition's transitional housing programs in the District of Columbia. Providing transitional housing often requires more than just four walls and a roof, to be successful. The programs needs secure and sustainable funding and support from the community to continue to help individuals and families to secure permanent housing.

The buzz is growing around this event. Your financial and moral support can make a difference in the lives of the people served by the Coalition daily. We are doing it again in 2018. See Page 11 for more information.

Over the last 5 years, our annual Stepping Out for the Homeless has been held at St. Francis Hall, a charming facility located adjacent to the beautiful Franciscan Monastery in the quiet Brookland neighborhood of northwest Washington, DC (also near Catholic University). Built in 1931 and featuring romantic Renaissance architecture, St. Francis Hall offers a combination of classic beauty and modern amenities. It is directly across the street from a bus stop and ample free parking is available in the front and rear of the building.

Employee and Volunteer Events

The Coalition's Annual Volunteer and Staff Appreciation Reception

Volunteer Awards

Annually we recognize volunteers who help the homeless. Volunteers are a very important part of the culture at the Coalition. We believe that one of the significant reasons a person decides to change their life is because someone has shown that they really do care and believe in them. We thank all of volunteers for their selfless gifts of time and talent to helping someone in need.

Mickey Leland House

Roger Kemp and LaToya Davenport from the U.S. Attorney's Office, provided workshops and seminars to the clients at Mickey Leland House. Arthur Rochee, Program Director stated that it is refreshing to meet and work with two professionals who are committed to making things better for everyone.

Emery Work Bed Program

The staff at Emery nominated Fathers Forward for the Volunteer Service Award in recognition of their leadership and continued efforts in strengthening fathers and child engagement. Fathers Forward also provided supportive services towards the Employment component of the Emery Work Bed Program by helping move our clients towards self-sufficiency.

Employee Awards

Employee of the Year.

Gary Henderson, Transportation Driver, was chosen as the Coalition's 2017 Employee of the Year based on his outstanding service, dedication, and commitment to the mission of the Coalition and the homeless individuals and families we serve.

One of Gary's jobs is to train clients who are in the Coalition's transitional housing program. He trains them on operational functions like snow removal, setting up for Coalition events, moving furniture, etc.

Gary is patient with clients and this helps build the client's confidence and their journey to achieve independence.

Gary represents the Coalition well in the community and has received great comments on the quality of his work and his great attitude. He has a great sense of humor. His favorite saying around the office – which always gets a chuckle – is “I do more before 7:00 am than the average person does all day.”

Thank You!

Thank you for your monetary and non-monetary support. You helped make it possible for the Coalition for the Homeless to do more. Because of you we were able to help members in our community who are homeless find permanent affordable housing, obtain employment, provide education and training, and life skills. You helped make a difference and improve lives. A special thank you to staff who participated in the United Way Work Place Campaign. Thank you for giving where you work.
